The Society for Clinical Trials holds an annual scientific meeting in locations across the world. Professionals from all disciplines and regions attend, and participants can expect:

- Multi-disciplinary programming with broad participation
- Plenary sessions, simultaneous workshops and contributed presentations in platform and poster format
- Pre-meeting workshop courses by leaders in the field
- Annual Student Scholarship Competition Exhibits
- Discussions of timely issues and research experiences among colleagues in the field of clinical trials
- Networking opportunities with the 500+ meeting attendees, throughout the 2.5 day meeting
Created in 1978, the Society for Clinical Trials is an international professional organization dedicated to the development and dissemination of knowledge about the design, conduct, and analysis of clinical trials and related health care research methodologies.

The OBJECTIVES of the Society are to:

- PROVIDE a forum for discussion of statistical, data management, research computing, regulatory, philosophical, ethical, and procedural and management issues arising from the design, organization, operation, analysis and reporting of clinical trials.
- PROMOTE methodological research and the application of sound scientific methods in intervention trials.
- FACILITATE communication among the various disciplines involved in the conduct of clinical trials.
- EDUCATE and INFORM health care researchers about the design, operation and analysis of clinical trials.
- PROMOTE better understanding by the general public of the importance of randomized clinical trials in evaluating interventions for the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of disease.
